For years we have had an amazing experience with Dr. Nolte. He has been a very encouraging and supportive doctor through our infertility experience, and recommended a great doctor to help us achieve a successful pregnancy. While pregnant with our twin boys, Dr. Nolte kept a close eye on how the boys were developing and would order extra tests to make sure we were all safe and growing properly. If we had any questions or concerns, Dr. Nolte would let us call him or he would call us after hours if need be. Dr. Nolte is an amazing and caring doctor.

Selanie Iorg is a wonderful Ultrasound Tech. While pregnant with our twin boys, she would always go out of her way to make us feel special. She made each ultrasound a fun experience and would take the time to explain everything she was measuring or looking for when checking on the development of our little boys. If there were any special movements, she would get excited and try to show us what she was watching. We always left her office with a smile on our face and a CD full of videos or pictures of our boys.

Our Labor and Delivery Nurse, Wanda Murphy, is the most compassionate nurse you could ask for. With the delivery of our boys being an emergency, Wanda made us feel relaxed as she prepped me for surgery. Wanda did not leave my side for the entire delivery, which comforted me and made me feel like I had my best friend with me. With our stay at UBMC, Wanda checked in on us, even though she was not scheduled to be our nurse that day. She also kept in contact with me months after the birth of our twins to see if I had any questions on breastfeeding and to make sure it was going smoothly.

Our experience with UBMC was amazing, thanks to these great people.
