Infant Burial Clothing

Families who have lost a baby experience situations that most are unprepared to face. The devastating loss of an infant should not be compounded by the need to find suitable clothing for their angel's next journey. We provide Caring for Coy care kits, which include beautiful, yet practical clothing that meets the unique needs of the baby and the professionals caring for the baby. Options include burial gowns for girls and boys, modified tuxedos for boys, and special wraps (pockets) for even the tiniest babies. These items are handmade by amazing volunteers, and most are made of donated wedding gowns that provide the perfect materials and embellishments.

This project requires intermediate sewing skills, a sewing machine, appropriate fabric, embellishments and scissors.
